The Races.

A meeting of the committee of the Turf Club was held on Monday night, and final arrangements were made for the race meeting to be held here on June 20 and 21. The Association decided to try and secure stabling for visiting horses in private stables in the vicinity of the track, as it was not thought advisable to go to the expense of building temporary stables on the grounds for the occasion.

Mr. Winter reported that a large number of horsemen had asked him to secure stabling for their horses—some thirty-five or forty.

All the good horses in the country will be at the meeting, and there is no doubt that this year's races will be the best ever held here.

Another meeting of the Committee will be held on Monday evening, June 17th.

Special Rates to Lacombe.

The C. P. R. has granted special excursion rates of fare and a third from all parts of Alberta to the Lacombe race meeting, which will be held on June 20th and 21st.

The train for Stettler will be held at Lacombe on race days until about 8 p. m. to allow visitors from the east line to see the races and get home the same day.

St. Stephen's Church Concert.

Day's opera house was filled to the doors last Tuesday evening, on the occasion of the concert under the auspices of St. Stephen's church.

A splendid musical programme had been prepared and was greatly enjoyed by all. The following were among those who contributed musical selections: The Misses Irene and Helen McLean, Messrs. L. B. Brown, J. Steers, A. Slater, J. P. Kent, Geo. Christie, E. Delavale, Hewlett (violin); Mrs. Lister and Mrs. Robinson accompanied the singers on piano.

Ample justice was done to the refreshments provided. The affair was most successful, about ninety dollars being realized.

The members of St. Stephen's church wish to extend their sincere thanks to all who assisted in making the concert a success.

FOR SALE

2 short horn bulls. 1 short horn cow with bull calf at foot. 2 short horn grade heifers with calves at foot. Yorkshire pigs. Plymouth Rock fowls.

J. B. Harrington, V. S.
Lacombe.

A report is current that oil has been struck in boring for water near Asker. Such a discovery is not at all surprising, as the indications are many, that oil may be found in this district at the base of the oolite formation, or contiguous thereto. This formation crops to surface in the range of hills to the east of Ponoka and forms the apex of the anticlinal that extends in an easterly direction towards Asker. The basin or synclinal is evidently underlying the valley of Battle and Red Deer Lakes; it is in such basins where oil is generally found and it is the opinion of scientists that the oolite rocks are the primary source of oil, and that under pressure it has exuded and been forced into adjoining and more absorbing formations, such as sandstone and shale, from which the bulk of the world's supply is obtained. Indications of oil are formed in wells sunk on the low range of hills referred to, and it has also been noticed on the surface about 6 miles north east of Ponoka on the Indian Reserve. Further research in this matter would be more interesting, as it would possibly be the means of opening up an oil field which would add considerable impetus to the development and trade of this part of the country.

THE BANKS.

The last monthly statement of the Canadian banks shows that Canada is making continued and increased progress, but also shows that the banks are becoming increasingly conservative and are curtailing credit upon speculative investments. In the language of the street, they are "shortening sail" and "shutting down" on the public. Call loans on stocks are over five millions less than they were a year ago.

Canada's banking system has for a considerable time enjoyed the reputation of being the soundest and most reasonably advanced in the world, and even such incidents as attended the closing up of the Ontario Bank have not lessened the strength and prestige of our great financial institutions. One can very readily appreciate the fact that this soundness can perhaps be best ensured by a certain degree of conservatism on the part of the banks, and the business man is prepared to submit to inconvenience now and then if there is any tangible reason to believe that it is part of a system that will tend to maintain their strength. It is, for instance, to the distinct advantage of even the man who is legitimately dealing in lands that the banks should shut down on wildcat schemes in real estate, and a conservatism in this respect appeals to the good judgment of every straight business man. The trouble is, however, that when it comes to be a conservatism and becomes an absolute prohibition, a greater inconvenience is caused than there is any justification for. The industrial development of the country and the need of funds therefore is no sufficient reason why the man in the West who has a bona fide land proposition, as sound as the Rockies, should be tied up in his project by the refusal of the banks to give him their usual service. Such cases have occurred, and they seem to be directly in a line with the self shortening policy of the bankers. The question arises whether they are thus contributing as they might be, or as they claim to be, to the development of the country.

If the reason back of this attitude on the part of the banks is that they have not sufficient capital to deal as liberally as they otherwise might with these enterprises, the natural inference is that they should increase their capital, and that speedily. There seems to be something of this kind stirring in Ontario, where all manner of stories are now circulating as to the re-organization and consolidation of some of the largest and most representative of the banks. The Sovereign Bank has already been re-organized and new resources will now be behind it. The Bank of Montreal, the Bank of Commerce, the Imperial Bank, the Merchants or Union Banks, or any of their companion institutions could certainly serve this western country better if they had still larger capitals at their disposal, and if consolidation would further strengthen them by reducing administrative expense and eliminating the multiplicity of branches, that too is a step that ought to be taken. The country cannot afford to be hampered by the organizations whose prime purpose it is to help it on.

Ethics of the Market.

The raise in the price of lumber, which we are promised as a first of June delinquency may be quite justifiable on grounds of market economics but it seems to come as a burden on the average public. From the point of view of the man who wants to build a comfortable home in all convenience and the ideal price which he will shortly be called upon to pay will mean either that he will build either smaller or cheaper or won't build at all, and will have to go without a new or better home.

The action of the Edmonton boards in purchasing or not in purchasing with that of the dealers in Winnipeg and other large points in the West. In Winnipeg, the price of lumber is still going up two dollars a thousand and the Edmonton advance on all kinds of locally manufactured lumber will be from two to three dollars. The Winnipeg dealers give as their excuse that the price of lumber has been advanced by the manufacturers and they have, as middlemen, no other excuse. The Edmonton manufacturers explain the raise as due to increased cost of production and greatly increased demand. One Winnipeg dealer said that two dollars a thousand "would not make very much difference" and the man who intended to "build" would not stop for that trifling reason, which is better excuse than logic.

Now the justice of a raise in price because of increased cost of production may, such increase being assumed to be actual, be admitted, for the lumber producer is subject to just such economic laws as every other producer; but some fault may very naturally be found with the attitude expressed in that other explanation, the greatly increased demand. It is hard to get over the feeling that there is a bit of hold-up in the game. The manufacturers could very likely make a good case. They can readily get top-notch prices for their output. Premiums of from one to three dollars a thousand have been offered in Winnipeg for quick shipment, and very possibly similar premiums have been offered here, or if they have not the pressing demand is still an undoubted fact. The lumber producers are acting in a very human-nature kind of way and very much as the coal producers acted last winter, and both lumber and coal men are perhaps quite within their rights. But it is a more human than humane way of handling the public. Edmonton is up against a housing problem, and it would have been a very decided contribution to the speedy upbuilding of the city if the lumber producers, in their mercy, could have found it possible to have left out of their reckoning the opportunity to get a big figure because their goods were so much wanted.

No Cause for Doubt.

The "late spring" in the west is no occasion for alarm among the strengtheners within our gates, nor any excuse for the circulation of alarmist reports by enemies without.

That winter lingered unusually long in the west, is quite true—but it is also true that in this regard the western provinces of Canada are no exception to the rule. Eastern Canada has had a "backward" spring also—so backward that agricultural operations and crop conditions there are not many days in advance. In the southernmost counties of Ontario—the famous "fruit belt" along the Lake Erie shore—very little gardening had been done at the beginning of last week, and seeding operations were by no means completed. The trees in the orchards were just unfolding their leaves on Sunday week, and with very occasional exception, the crab-trees were about the only fruit trees in flower. Grass in the meadow was green but had made little growth and few farmers had turned out their stock. Westward through the state of Illinois during the past week conditions were more advanced. The forest trees were beautifully clothed in green, but the farmers were still busy seeding every where. On the whole therefore, it does not appear an unfair estimate to say that western Canada is not at most more than ten days behind these districts, which are considered among the especially favored farming regions of North America.

Of western Canada, central Alberta certainly has no occasion to be envious of other districts. Throughout all three provinces seeding operations were in full swing during the past two weeks, but from Battleford westward the hills had a much greener tinge than either in eastern Saskatchewan or Manitoba. Along the line of the Canadian Northern through the three provinces the first spring green noticed above ground was near Oliver station, a few miles from Edmonton. Central Alberta appears therefore to have slightly the lead of the country along the Saskatchewan and also of the Red River valley both in Manitoba and south of the international boundary.

A few days ago the Manitoba Agricultural college issued a circular advising Manitoba farmers to continue seeding wheat until June 1st. The advice is good and is good in Alberta and Saskatchewan as well as in Manitoba. June is the rainy month of the western summer the month upon which the farmer depends for moisture to push along his grain crop. Comparatively little rain ordinarily falls during spring, and while the moisture remaining in the ground from the snowfall is usually sufficient to start the crop, the showers of June really provide the moisture for the season's growth. It is of less consequence whether grain be sown in April or May than that June supply moisture in plenty. This is the growing month and with its long days and warm showers the "leafy" month works marvels in crop production from the fertile western soil. It does not so much matter whether grain is one inch high, or six inches high on the 1st of May, if June provides thirty days of good "growing weather."

There is nothing in the present circumstances to warrant a doubt that the west will this year add another bumper crop to its splendid record.

Poultry Fattening Stations.

The Department of Agriculture has completed the arrangements for the co-operative fattening stations being organized at a number of Government and private enterprises throughout the province. A few of these stations will fatten fowl during June as this brings the birds onto the market at a season of the year when practically no poultry is offered for sale and thus should be sold to advantage. Crated fowl always command a better price at this time than when offered for sale in the fall because then the market is flooded with chickens.

During the fall months there will be ample supplies of chicken for fattening purpose and it is therefore proposed to induce farmers to lessen the number of birds to be handled in the fall by fattening, during June and July, before the molting season begins, the fowl which they wish to dispose of. In view of this it has been decided not to accept any fowl for fattening after the regular work of fattening chickens in the fall has been started.

The fattening of fowl as above proposed by the Department is a move in the right direction for experiments have shown that hens, after they are two years old, are practically worthless as egg producers. Well developed pullets have been proven to be the more suitable for egg production and experiments have further demonstrated the important fact that 10 pullets are equal to 17 year-olds or 24 two-year-olds in their ability to lay eggs.

The advance price to be paid for birds at the poultry fattening stations this season will be $8 for fowl and 10¢ for chicken.

Parties having fowl to fatten should communicate at once with the manager of the nearest fattening station.

No Cause for Alarm.

Arthur Hawkes, Manager of the Monetary Times, Toronto, who is on a trip here investigating commercial conditions, made the following statement: "Speculation in real estate has gone altogether to far, not only in Edmonton but throughout the entire West. Some men think that a sharp check should be placed on this attempt to boost values beyond all reason in order that a serious break might be thus prevented. Basically there is nothing alarming in the situation, capital being invested productively not speculatively. That is the farmers are filling up the country and their investments are of the productive character. When you have such conditions there is no doubt as to the business development of the country. The speculation which has marked many of the cities and towns in just the middle and war-time of last year. Business men are not in any danger of losing by the speculations. The policy of the banks in refusing to loan money will have a good effect upon financial conditions. The more I see of this country the more wonderful its fertility appears to me. In Alberta the crops are much ahead of Manitoba."

Having started a Real Estate Business in this thriving village we wish to advise the general public that we are now ready to handle anything in this line to your entire satisfaction.

Valley City is well known to everyone in this Province, but for the benefit of people at a distance we would say that it is situated half way between Lacombe and Alix, in one of the most highly productive farming districts in Western Canada, at the junction of the famous Pleasant and Long Valleys. We will also add that we are on the C.P.R. line east of Lacombe, but as yet have no railway accommodation or shipping facilities. This, however, does not prevent us from being several times larger than either of our neighboring towns—and why? Because we have the farming district to the back of us. This country of ours, this Sunny Balmey Alberta is intended & adapted for mixed farming, and you must have good soil. We have it. We want it and you want it. Besides countless acres of wild land, we have on our lists a few improved farms unreasonably cheap. Home seekers should not delay in investigating this matter. Thousands of dollars may be passing you unnoticed. Prices and further particulars can be had on application. No trouble to show this property and it is a pleasure for us to answer all correspondence.

BOG RAISING.

The production of hogs has become such an important branch of agriculture in Ontario that the Local Government has made arrangements with the breeders of pure bred swine to furnish any farmer who is desirous of improving his herd with pure-bred boar typed hogs at a very moderate price.

With the ever increasing demand by the British market together with multiplied home consumption for well made hams, Canada is holding her own but when we consider that Ontario is shipping fully two-thirds of the output and Alberta is importing nine-tenths of her own consumption, there are unlimited possibilities for the farmer who has a foothold in the Prairie Province of Alberta where natural conditions during the developing periods are so perfect.

It will not be absolutely necessary to house swine that are intended for a following summer's use in perfectly comfortable quarters unless it would be brood sows which should be housed a short time before farrowing. Judicious feeding of the right kind of food—the main spring of successful hog raising.

If you like to have money in your pocket all the year round, get a few cows and a National Cream Separator. We can furnish the separator. A. C. Johnston & Co.

It would appear that the sun's rays were streaming more profusely upon the little but flourishing town of Valley City than on any other town along the north line. Why? Look at the vegetation. Never in its history was the growth so rapid and luxuriant. Grain that has been in the ground but three days, is up and perfectly healthy, bearing a deep green hue. This little town has encountered no frost since May 11th. Ontario can't say that!

If you want a chance to smile at your neighbour this harvest season—buy a Massey-Harris binder.

Many of Mr. R. G. Sutton's friends will regret to learn that he has been transferred by the conference, which recently met at Calgary, to Lacombe. By living a consistent life Mr. Sutton has made many friends and although his work has been scattered over a large area, we feel satisfied that his labors have not been in vain. We hope that a large number will be present on Sunday next at 3:30 p. m. to hear Mr. Sutton's farewell sermon. We trust that on his new field his efforts will be crowned with success.

Bring your cream to the Golden Rod creamery and get the cream that is going.

We are informed that a Lase Land car loaded with land purchasers will arrive at Chigwell in a few days. Without shipping facilities of their own Valley City citizens should consider themselves highly favored. These men are coming to buy land on which they intend to settle and all interested, whether having land for sale or simply a citizen should encourage the scheme. We have the soil and we must have men to till it.

The weather is fine, so are our goods. Lee W. Hare. Quite a number intend taking in the demonstration at Enkine to-morrow where several figure heads will give addresses. Where is Valley City with its demonstrations?

NEWS OF ALIX

A farewell banquet was given to Mr. A. S. Maxwell by the citizens of Alix and district last Monday evening. About sixty guests were present to do justice to the good things provided by Mr. Paulson. The tables were very beautifully arranged and laden with all manner of good things to eat and drink. Mr. W. D. Magee, on behalf of the guests assembled, read an address and presented Mr. Maxwell with a beautiful ring with his monogram engraved thereon. Mr. Maxwell in a few well chosen words thanked his many friends for their kindness and expressed his regrets at leaving Alix and also the hope that some time in the near future he would return to take charge of the Merchants Bank again. The remainder of the evening was spent in songs and recitations after which all joined heartily in singing God save the King. A number of our citizens intend taking in the sports at Eskine this week.

Mr. P. Paulson of the Grand View hotel, gave a free dance in Mr. Todd's hall last Friday evening. The music was furnished by the Alix orchestra and a good time was enjoyed by those who were fortunate enough to be present.

Of Interest to Stallion Owners.

While on patrol duty recently Constable Asho found that Mr. Tonberg, Of Seven Persons, was standing a stallion for gain in his stable without having a certificate of enrollment issued by the Department of Agriculture, posted on the inside and outside of his stable door, as required by the Ordinance. Mr. Tonberg pleaded guilty to the charge when brought before Inspector Parker, of Medicine Hat, on May 28th last, and was fined $2.00 (Two Dollars) and costs.

As the object of the Horse Breeders' Ordinance is to improve the horse industry of the Province steps will be taken to see that its provisions are carried out. Stallion owners having failed to comply with the requirements of the Ordinance by not having their horses enrolled, or neglected to post copies of the certificate of enrollment on the stable door, would do well to take warning from the above.

Cut Worms in the Fields and Gardens.

Hearing in mind the enormous damage that was done by cutworms last spring, it will pay the farmer and garden owner to give a look to their crops as early as possible after they are sown and at any rate just as soon as the small plants begin to appear. The parent moths or millers were not very numerous last fall so that probably the cutworms will not be nearly so plentiful this spring as they were last, but from reports and from what has already been seen in the fields and gardens there is still risk of a good deal of damage from the depredations of these creatures this year.

These pests are very easily destroyed and the remedy consists in applying a mixture of bran and paris green to the surface of the ground in which the cutworms are harboring. The creatures come out to the surface to feed at night and bran seems to be in great favor with them as a food, and when there is a judicious mixture of paris green along with it they usually are quite satisfied with one meal. The mixture should be in the proportion of one pound of paris green to 50 pounds of bran, although some authorities prescribe double the quantity of bran to the same amount of paris green. The bran should be mixed with sweetened water till it is crumbly, not sloppy, and the paris green dusted on to it and thoroughly mixed. It may be applied with a piece of shingle or even the hand if only a small quantity is to be used. Many farmers found this treatment very effective last year and indeed it is now recognized as the standard remedy all over the country wherever cutworms become a pest.

To prevent disappointment in the cabbage patch every plant should be protected by a screen of paper twisted on the stalk just above the roots and loosely unfolding the leaves. This forms an effective barrier to the cutworm, is easily applied, and does not interfere with the growth of the cabbage.

Unattractive Calling.

At a meeting of the Anglican clergyman of the diocese of Ottawa, attention was called to the steady decrease in the number of clergy available, resulting in parishes being vacant for long periods. During the last twenty years but six boys from the city, and only twenty from the whole diocese, entered the ministry. The chairman of the committee on the state of the church had asked his high school members of St. Andrew's brotherhood for written reasons why boys did not offer themselves for ministerial training. The answers were: Insufficient salary, lack of encouragement from parents, and sometimes actual opposition, inability to meet cost of university education, as regards outlay entailed, and loss at home resulting from the earning power of the boy having been withdrawn from the family.

How many of our readers can tell us what the stripes on the barber pole signify? You see the pole with its stripes and you know there is a barber shop back of the pole, but here the knowledge of the average person ceases. In the early days barbers did the bleeding for the community and surgeons were not as plentiful as now. The first thing thought necessary way down to the time of George Washington's death was that any patient should be bled! Tap him and take a few ounces of blood from him, no matter how weak he might be. When Washington was at the last gasp, the blood bled him. Well, the red stripes on a barber pole mean the red ribbon bandages that barbers bled over the wounds caused by bleeding people. That's all. When they got through with a phlebotomist of full habit and only fresh eggs were marketed had tapped him like a hard sample tree in February, he was patched up and bandaged till his arms, legs and trunk looked like a much-gartered leg.

"Times are hard" to be sure, but what's the use of climbing up on a dry goods box, and day after day proclaiming to the world this old threadbare stereotyped assertion. We some times think that times ought to be still more stringent with some of those fellows. Did it ever occur to you that the genuine hustler rarely, if ever, complains of hard times?

Be natural. Do not try to impress people with your importance. If you are really important they will find it out. If you are of no account you will not deceive any one by acting as though great in terrore roared in your keeping. The day of pomposity is passed. We hope never to return. More people than ever before are intelligent and able to judge those with whom they come in contact. This means that they are able to judge you and place a true rather than a false estimate on your abilities.

Canada's growing time continues. A Government report shows that during the twelve months ending March 31 last Canada's exports to the United States increased by $20,145,508, or 23 1/2 per cent, while the exports to Great Britain increased by $8,930,831, or 7 per cent, as compared with the preceding twelve months. On the other hand imports from Great Britain increased by $16,089,287, or 21 per cent, while imports from the United States increased by $39,791,452, or 23 1/2 per cent. During the 12 months Canada's total exports amounted to $272,206,006, an increase of $32,082,960, 13 1/2 per cent. The total imports were $340,374,745, an increase of $60,046,635, or 21 1/2 per cent. The total trade for the twelve months was $612,581,351, an increase of $92,128,955. Estimating the total population at six millions, the per capita trade of the Dominion for the year was a little over $100. Probably no other country in the world can show an equal percentage of growth.

Our idea of a good citizen, and we are glad there are many in this community, is one always ready to give, according to his means, to community enterprises. He takes stock in them all, and doesn't lose his faith if an occasional venture proves bad. He is not afraid to buy real estate and to pay what it is worth. He talks up his town at home and abroad, thinks it is the healthiest place on earth, believing it to be destined to be the biggest city in its section and wants to be buried here when he dies. And he's worth a whole regiment of the lukewarm kind.

The prohibitive postage rates in American publications entering this country is not fair to the American residents of the west. Fifty-eight thousand people came over from the United States last year, and although the immigration from the south has fallen off a little during the last month, the climatic conditions of the whole country accounts for the ebb in the tide for the time being. But so long as there are cheap lands and free homesteads in these provinces the settlers who can enjoy privileges which their own country cannot offer, will come to make their home. These people when they do settle among us want to keep in touch with their home land, but cannot do so under such an embargo as is imposed by the new postal law. We believe that the government has made a mistake in imposing these conditions which are a manifest injustice to the Americans who cannot be expected to sever all home ties after getting the first breath of our prairie air. If we want to keep the American immigration coming we must not impose such restrictions as those contained in the latest postal regulations.

Eggs are holding up the price pretty well and would be higher if the farmers would be more careful in sorting their eggs. When the dealer ships his eggs to the city he knows that each egg will be "cashed" and all bad ones thrown out. This loss together with those he calls out before shipping cuts down his margin of profit many times so low that it would take a powerful motive to discover it. We believe if phlebotomist of full habit and only fresh eggs were marketed had tapped him like a hard sample tree in February, he was patched

A large crowd attended the Gavin Spence concert on Friday night, and all reports most enjoyable. Mr. Spence announced that this was his last appearance in Alberta, as he would retire on completion of his tour.

Services will be held as usual in the Methodist church next Sunday. Preaching at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. and Sunday School at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Strangers and newcomers are especially invited.

One cannot help sympathizing with the poor people down east, who are still in the grip of winter. All over Northern Ontario there was a heavy fall of snow last Sunday. The beautiful made its appearance as far south as the state of Ohio. We hear some Albertans who are discouraged as a result of the late spring, talking about leaving "this cursed country." What language they would use if they were banished to Ontario.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Editor Globe,

Dear Sir:—I noticed an article in the last issue of the Advertiser over the signature of Pro Bono Publico, wherein the writer has made serious complaint because the Dominion Government has increased the rate on papers coming into Canada from the office of publication in the U. S. He says that the emigrant from the U. S. into Canada is thus discriminated against, and that Uncle Sam never so discriminated against the Canadians who entered his domain. This latter is perhaps true. But on the other hand it must be remembered that the Canadian in going into the U. S. never received any special advantages. Up to the time of the present government coming into power, about a million of Canadians had become citizens of the great republic. They were chiefly French Canadians, and having no knowledge of English, could not use the national schools, hence they were compelled to establish what were termed parochial schools for their children, at their own expense. This is in rather striking contrast with the liberality of the provincial government inspired by the Dominion towards the Americans who are enabled almost immediately on arrival to establish schools, better in most respects than the schools of the country from which they come. Then his argument that the American is not considered a desirable immigrant compared with some other nationalities is a misconception. The very fact that there are some fourteen agencies in the adjoining states giving information and aiding those who wish to settle in the northwest, should be sufficient proof to the contrary. In this respect they are much better treated than our own Canadians in the East, who receive no encouragement and who have to find their own way here at about double the freight and traffic rates charged the American immigrant on the Dominion railways, and we challenge Pro Bono Publico to show where the Canadian is treated in any respect better than the American, or wherein he is discriminated against as compared with any other nationality.

In the matter of increased duty on American publications carried into Canada, the government found it was performing the service at a loss. As it is not the province of a government to legislate for particular classes or sections it was only a reasonable sequence that the system should cease. No doubt the treatment of the United States government towards the Dominion had something to do with it. It has not been their custom to give Canada something for nothing. For it is well known and a matter of history, that in all the concessions made for interchange of trade and in all the treaties between the two governments that as soon as it was found that the Canadians were getting the best of the bargain, the reciprocal regulations were ended and the treaties abrogated as soon as their stipulated conditions would permit. Altogether we are of the opinion that our American cousins, many of whom are repatriates, and being of the English speaking population we are glad to receive and meet, have no great reason for complaint in the trivial matter of increased cost on their local or home paper considering their very many other advantages.

Governments are just what the men who are sent to the capitals make them and these members are just what the elections make them. The Sabbath observance law is all right and at the last election, the electors endorsed them on the tariff issue which has been some modified since, and we do not imagine for one moment that Pro Bono Publico's prediction of the downfall of the Federal government will come about. That at the next election of the Dominion which may be very soon all the little petty grievances will be lost sight of and perhaps Pro Bono Publico may be shouting with the rest for more of the Liberal rule. ### IOWALTA.

Don't forget the big social at Iowalta, June 8.

Mr. Mortor is intending to take a trip to the Peace River country to take up land for his sons.

George Lord and Rob Frizzell are having a hot chase in Iowalta for something. What is it?

Mrs. Kinley is slowly recovering from her severe burns.

George Lord has a swell rig. Look out girls!

The Iowalta band needs for practice on Friday night.

Mr. F. M. Dobbs lost a valuable cow in a lake the other day.

Mr. Alex. Frizzell had a runaway with an ox team and drag the other day, the drag coming out on top and Mr. Frizzell keeping up the rear.

Crops at Iowaltans looking out of sight.

Fishing is good in Wolf Creek, a great place to catch suckers.
